Money, Politics and Democracy

Tonight's presentation will focus on the influx of enormous sums of money into politics. We'll explore the strange path of Supreme Court decisions that allowed that to happen and the corrosive effect that has on democracy. Finally, we'll talk about today's efforts to bring better balance to campaign financing and to democracy. How did we get here? What do we actually have? What can we do about it?

Presenter Jack Altschuler, leadership workshop and keynote speaker for Fully Alive Leadership®, has been a successful entrepreneur, an industry leader and association president. Jack has 25 years of hands-on executive experience as CEO of the commercial and industrial water treatment company he founded. He holds a BS in economics from Miami University (Ohio) and is involved in several personal and philanthropic endeavors.
